HOW TO BECOME A DISTRIBUTOR OF A PRODUCT ONLINE FOR PROFIT?

The independent distributorship opportunities industry is having a second wind since the blending of network and online marketing began to create an interest a few years ago.

I was inspired to start my own business and become a independent distributor. However, the amount of money needed to get started was insane. However, it didn't stop my wife from embarking on her own business as a riding instructor and stable owner. She had the skills, knowledge and passion for it to be a total success. Alas, her business partner let her down and finally the project simply fell apart.

I was very proud of her bravery, but considering the large percentage of business opportunities that failure, I was not surprised. I questioned what made her pursue such a high risk project in the first place. Yes, she loved running her own business for the freedom and her passion for horses.

Of course, she manage to recoup some of the money invested into her business. Nevertheless, she still was left with an outstanding loan and other expenses she needed to repay. It was a bitter pill to swallow to chase your dreams.

HIGH FAILURE RATE

High failure rate, but low costs and outgoings is the attraction of independent distributorship opportunities

I understand why some people decides to start business opportunities. I have had the same motivation to be independent and financially self reliant for many years. As time progresses I saw the disadvantages of the traditional business model. The fact is, the average person can no longer afford the expense. That leaves them doing a nine to five job they are likely to hate.

That is why a few years ago, I started looking at the various online business opportunities. Overtime found that there was many great opportunities to make money as a independent online distributor. I of course hoped that it would gave me the freedom to live the life I wanted.

- It allowed me to travel
- It allowed me to work wherever I wanted
- It gave me financial freedom

In other words, becoming a independent distributor ticked all the boxes for me.

What you should know if you want start as running independent distributorship opportunities

If you want to be a independent distributor you will find that it is not an easy. However for a business-minded self starter who is strapped for cash, independent network marketing opportunities could be for you. In my opinion, it is the best alternative to financing a traditional business.

A few reasons why include:

- The low start up costs of distributor opportunities
- The low business costs
- The low or no travelling costs
- Your personal actions will influence your success or failure
- The income in most cases is limitless

HOW MUCH DOES A INDEPENDENT DISTRIBUTOR NEED TO WORK TO BECOME SUCCESSFUL?

STEVEN JACKSON

Really, it doesn't matter if the distributor is working full time, part-time or just a few hours a week. What does matter is the actions the independent distributor takes during the time they allocate for themselves. So, if an independent distributor allocates 2 hours a day, they need to make them count. However, if you want to work more hours a week, make every hour count.

The more you work the more money you will earn. So, don't waste time on browsing the internet and pretending its work.

What type of person do I need to be to become a independent distributor from home?

Anyone can start one of the many independent distributor opportunities available online. Regardless, if you are a stay at home parent with the kids, unemployed or unable to get work because of a disability.

Running independent business opportunities from home or online is something everyone can do.

"The key is, do you have the desire to learn"

As for me, I started working as a independent distributor in the evenings. Then few hours on a Saturday morning while my wife was shopping with her mother. Once I had started creating some content online, it was only a matter of time before someone purchased some products from me.

So, regardless who you are, you qualify, if you have the motivation to be successful.
